

HISTORY OF PSYCHOLOGY and SYSTEMS

Objective of the Course:

To give the knowledge about the modern history of psychology from the philosophical and physiological influences, founding of the new approaches to the modern psychology.

Learning Outcomes:

1. To understand philosophical approach which form the basis of psychology
2. To follow development of sub - areas in psychology with historical approach
3. To understand the formation and developmental processes of psychological approaches and their effect on the sub – areas of the psychology.
4. To understand social values during the development process in psychology;

Course Content:

1. The study of the history of psychology
2. Philosophical and Physiological influences on psychology
3. Psychology and subdivisions
4. The New Psychology
5. Structuralism
6. Functionalism: Antecedent influences
7. Functionalism: founding and development
8. Applied psychology: The legacy of functionalism; Behaviourism: Antecedent influences
9. Course review
10. Midterm
11. Behaviourism: The beginnings
12. Behaviourism: After the founding
13. Gestalt Psychology
14. Psychoanalysis: The beginnings
15. Psychoanalysis: After the founding
16. Contemporary developments in psychology
17. Contemporary developments in psychology
18. Final Exam

Textbooks, References and/or Other Materials:

A History of Modern Psychology (2007), Duane P.Schultz, Sydney Ellen Schultz,